Dear Readers

Christmas is a magical time. It is a season of love, joy and peace but it can be stressful, filled with obligations (like how you are writing your exams in the midst of the season). However, it is always good to slow down and remember why we are celebrating, and share the joy with the loved ones that surrounds us. Sometimes things does not go as we plan it to be. But remember that Christmas day is a living reminder each year that God will always fulfill his plans and promises to you. God never fails.

It is wonderful that we let so many lights burning brightly during Christmas season. They are reminders in a bleak, dark world that there is a true light that shines upon all mankind. He came to be the light, but the darkness does not accept him. Only when we open our hearts to him, can the light of truth, joy and peace come into our lives. Likewise, let us all be a light this Christmas, shining more brightly than those that we place on our trees or outside our homes. Let Jesus reflect His light through you!.

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year Modern family.

What Christmas Means to me

Christmas is a time of joy, happiness and most importantly a time for friends and families to come together and spend time. Every year around the world, people celebrate the birth of Jesus Christ who came to this world to give us love, hope and joy. For me this is what makes Christmas worth celebrating. It is a day and a season filled with Christmas carols, gift giving, streets filled with the beautiful lights and Christmas trees around and, the cheerful atmosphere that surrounds it.

For me, Christmas is a time that gives me the opportunity to give the needy, and the poor in our society. It is not only a time to wine and dine but to know that there are many people out there who are unable to put food on their table. It is important to know that they need our help and therefore, it is a great time to contribute and inculcate the spirit of giving. Christmas inspires us to be charitable, wanting to reach out and be involved with the community, lending a helping hand wherever we can when it comes to giving of gifts, it is wonderful to make someone happy while giving you the added benefit of being happy as you share their joy. The gift of love and support is one of the most generous gifts you can give.

During the Christmas season, prayers also serve powerful medium for connecting with the Divine, expressing gratitude and reflecting on the spiritual significance of the occasion. A personal prayer can reflect on personal spiritual growth, expressing hope and more commitment to God. God's love is for everyone. You are not alone. You are loved and you can feel hopeful and joyful. That is the true meaning of Christmas. It also gives an opportunity to look back at all the moments we are grateful for and express thanks to others while we are together.

Christmas could hold different meaning for many people but there is no denying in the beauty and the essence it holds. Therefore, whatever significance it holds I believe that it gives each and everyone of us a time of peace and harmony and goodwill to all men.
