MESSAGE

Greetings!

Every academic session gives us opportunity to explore new possibilities of teaching & learning. This academic year, we have adopted new experiential learnings – where the learning outcomes are measured through Formative & Summative Assessment.

We have also adopted new methods of measuring subject wise learnings & challenges across the classes. This will ensure that our teachers help & support the students across the different classes overcome learning difficulties by diagnosing the learning challenges.

Our multi & extra curricular activities are something which all the students and faculty look forward to as it adds color to the personal growth and development of our students. The field trips continue to take our students to different corners of the state and beyond. The monthly Positive Link publication is something which MHSS community looks forward to reading.

To add more into the lives of our students – Futsal project is being undertaken and work is in progress.

As the Annual School Magazine works are underway, I would like to wish the Cultural and Literary committee the best wishes for the publication.

Best regards,

PELEE HEKHA
Managing Director

MESSAGE

Greetings Everyone.

Thank you to the Literary and Cultural Committee of Modern Higher Secondary School (MHSS) for bringing us another edition of the Annual School Magazine with a new theme, Ink Slinger. Just as I do, I am sure that all of you look forward eagerly to reading the new edition.

On a lighter note, it also serves as a reminder about how fast time flies! We are still immersed in the current academic year and yet, December is already here, and the New Year is around the corner.

It is amazing that the annual magazine gives us an opportunity to 'celebrate' the year. At times, we get so caught up with our daily life and activities that we forget to pause and reflect. The write-ups of the various departments, clubs, the photo gallery, the events and the activities show us about all that we have achieved together throughout the year.

What is always a pleasant surprise and impressive are the contents of this annual magazine. There is a wealth of writing talent within: the poems, the stories, the articles and the write-ups; and worth mentioning that some are sprinkled with a nice dose of humour too!

The years that we spend in school are the best years of our life. The memories, bonds and friendships that we create in school always last a lifetime. Make good use of this precious time to enjoy, cherish and giving your best in all aspects of school life.

I wish you all lots of happiness and joy for the upcoming festive season...and Happy Reading'!

Once in a Lifetime

As we stand on the edge of goodbye, it feels unreal that the days we once rushed through are now the very moments we wish we could hold on to forever. The walls that echoed with our laughter, our complaints, our secrets, and our dreams will soon fall silent without us. Everything around us carries a part of our stories, the memories we created, the voices we leave behind, and the joy that once filled every corner. It feels like just yesterday we stepped in for orientation, yet here we are now counting the final days of our school life.

We came here as strangers, a little scared and unsure of what awaited us. We did not know who we would become or the people who would walk this journey with us. But somewhere between the morning assemblies, the shared lunch boxes, the unfinished notes, the last minute homework, the canteen line chaos, and the jokes that made our ribs hurt, we found our people. This place did more than teach us lessons. It watched us learn, grow, stumble, discover who we are and who we want to be.

I found friendships I never want to lose. The kind that feel like home even on the hardest days. I was guided by teachers who not only shaped my knowledge but molded my character, my confidence and the way I understand the world. And I was surrounded by batchmates who made me feel valued, appreciated and genuinely loved.

We had days when we shined and days when we struggled. Days that drained us completely and days that made us believe in magic again. Through every moment, we learned how to be brave, how to be kind, how to fall and rise again. And now, as we get ready to chase bigger dreams and write new stories, we carry these lessons in our hearts.

What hurts the most is knowing we will never get these days back. The routine we once complained about, the familiar faces we took for granted, the comfort of being understood without speaking, the remedial classes, the silly arguments, the unending practices and all the little things in between. Goodbye feels heavy only because the memories are so precious. And maybe that is the beauty of it. If leaving did not hurt, it would mean these moments never mattered.

So here is to every memory that built us. To the group photos where someone always blinked. To the inside jokes nobody else will ever understand. To the teachers who believed in us long before we believed in ourselves. And to the friendships we hope will survive every distance and every change that life brings.

We are stepping into a future that is exciting, unpredictable and full of possibilities. But no matter how far we go, a piece of our heart will always remain here in these corridors, on these benches and in the laughter that still lingers in the air.

This is not the end. It is simply the beginning of a new chapter. And I hope that years from now, when life becomes loud and overwhelming, we will remember these days. The innocence, the simplicity and the pure joy of growing up together. We will remember that once upon a time, we lived the best days of our lives side by side.

Thank you Modern Higher Secondary School for the memories, the love and the moments that will stay with us forever.

Goodbye for now, until life brings us together again.

Batch of 2024-2026; forever in pride and memory. Our story continues!

MESSAGE TO MY JUNIORS

Dear Juniors,

As I look back to my journey in this school, I realised how valuable every moment had been - every lesson learned, every challenge faced and every friendship formed and tested. Standing towards the end of this chapter, I want to share a few thoughts that may guide you as you continue your journey here.

First, school life is not only about marks and academic deadlines; it is also about the discovery of who you are. Be curious, be inquisitive, ask questions and never underestimate the power of hard work. Yes, grades and marks are important: but dedication, consistency and sincerity also matters and holds equal importance.

Second, cherish your teachers. They are your strongest support system in school. You may not realise today but their guidance, experience and encouragement can transform you in ways you could ever imagine. Respect them, learn from them, and remember that their only wish is to see you grow and excel in whatever you do.

Third, value your friendships. The people sitting beside you today may become some of your most treasured memories in future. Be kind, be understanding, and uplift one another. One gentle act and word can change someone's entire day.

Fourth, embrace challenges instead of fearing them. Face them boldly. Each setback is simply a step towards improvement. Believe in your abilities, work consistently, and trust the process. Success will follow.

Lastly, believe in yourself. Your journey is unique and so is your potential. Do not compare your progress with anyone else. Move forward with confidence, grace and trust that you are capable of achieving more than you imagine.

As you continue your journey in this school, may you create memories that fill your heart beautifully, friendships that lasts a lifetime, and accomplishments that make you proud. Seize the moment and make the most of every moment count. Because these years will guide you for a long long time as you step into an uncertain future.

With warmth and best wishes,

DIYA JHA

MY JOURNEY AT MODERN HIGHER SECONDARY SCHOOL

My years at Modern Higher Secondary School had been a meaningful journey of learning, growth, and unforgettable memories. This school had shaped me not only academically but also personally, helping me understand the importance of discipline, hard work and confidence.

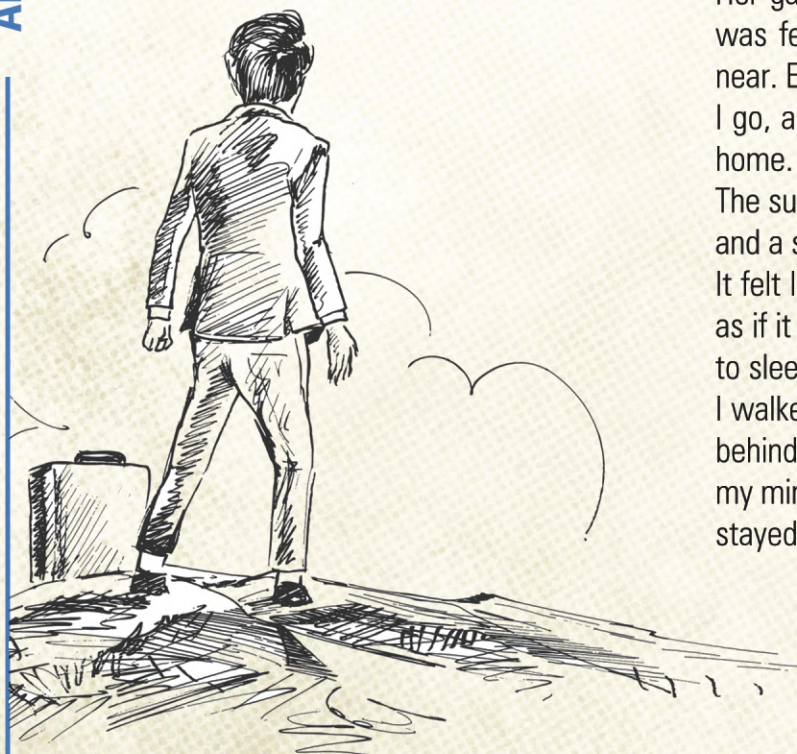

I am grateful to all my teachers for their support and encouragement. Their guidance helped me discover my strength and pushed me to become a better version of myself. The moments shared with my friends, from classroom laughter to exam stress and school events will always remain close to my heart.

As I move ahead, I carry with me the values and lessons this school had given me. Modern Higher Secondary School will always be a special part of my life, and I am proud to have been a student here.

Long Live, Modern Higher Secondary School !

Class-10

I saw a small cat on a broken stone wall, couldn't tell if she'd been left or if she'd lost it all. Jealous green eyes in a frightened, quiet face, like she doesn't belong to any one.

Her coat was soft brown, with a gentle, golden glow, shining like a fallen star in the evening fading show. But when I stepped closer, I could hear her silent plea, as if she whispered, "Is there someone here for me?"

Her gaze seems she was hungry, in her body there was fear. Yet a tiny spark of hope kept pulling me near. Every step that I took, her eyes followed where I go, as if she begged the empty road to turn into a home.

The sun slowly sank, painting clouds in shades of red and a strange heavy feeling settled quite in my head. It felt like even the sky softly wept above the street, as if it wished that lonely heart had somewhere safe to sleep.

I walked on without her; though my thoughts stayed behind, her helpless little shadow still wandering in my mind. Though my feet went forward, a part of me stayed with that cat, still waiting there.

Viva La Vida M555

As my days in higher secondary is coming to a close, I'm filled with a mix of emotions. Leaving school is a bittersweet moment for me, marking the end of an era and the beginning of a new journey

I remember the first day I walked into school, feeling nervous of what lay ahead. Over the years, I've learned and grown alongside my friends and teachers. We've had our days of laughter, tears and joy which I will forever miss

As I look back, I'm grateful for the experiences that have shaped me into the person I am today. These 2 years has been possibly the greatest part of my life.

As I bid farewell to this chapter of my life, I'm excited to embark on new adventures. I'm eager to explore new opportunities, meet new people, and learn from new experiences. The world outside these school walls is vast and full of possibilities

To my teachers, friends, and school community, I want to say thank you. Thank you for the support, guidance, and memories. Your influence and hard work has had a profound impact on my life, and I'll carry it with me as I move forward. And so I say once again thank you, I am forever grateful to have been your student.

Long live Modern Higher Secondary School!

MY CULTURE MY IDENTITY

Culture is one of the most important things that we have been following, even in this modern generation. Our culture also influences the way we behave and speak. We can't forget our culture because "My Culture My Identity", it gives us the resources of our ancestors, and reminds us of our origin, where we came from. It provides knowledge about the tradition and the way our ancestors lived before.

In today's modern times, are we still connected with our culture? Yes, we have been converted to Christianity for many decades. And we don't follow the old ritual our ancestors used to practice, but we should not forget our culture, which is our identity, for it is the only way our origin is being recognized. But in today's time, we can't even see our culture, as we step into the twenty-first century, we have lost our culture; all of us have been driven by this modern technology, and we are so much into these things that we don't even know our own mother tongue. In the times of our ancestors, starting from a young age, they were being trained how to respect their elders and how to help others, but in today's generation, we don't see any of this happening. Yes, we see people helping each other, we see children giving respect to elders, but now these things are very rare to be found in today's time. Now, what we see is that we don't even know what our culture is, if we ask any of our young want's to sing a folklore or tell a story of how our culture was started, they would be able to say or sing anything because we are all lost in this twenty-first century.

Yes, we should know how to live or use the technology of this present generation, but let's not forget our Culture, which is our Identity. We should let our culture live from generation to generation because what we are today is because of our culture. Lastly, I would like to say "My Culture My Identity".

Me and My Brothers
Who gon' believe in thou!
Thy soul's whispers round me
Never, nonetheless I stick with 'em
Me and My Brothers!
They say, "Stick not on them."
But I do stick 'em round me,
For I believe they are my blood:
Blood but not stream thou flow
I flow with th' flows

My rescue and a bandage for my heartache,
There My Brothers lie!

My School, My Second Home

Modern Higher Secondary School has always been more than just a place to study but a place where the students realise who they truly are, and discover what their true potential is.

I was a student who rarely participated in school activities because I often doubted myself, however my teachers never did. They believed in me even when I did not and that belief shaped my life. I am who I am today because of them. With their efforts, support and encouragement, I slowly stepped out of my comfort zone. I learned to lead, to take responsibility and most importantly, to trust myself.

Today, as I stand in my final year here at school, I realised how deeply this school has touched my life. Every classroom lesson learnt and every teacher has moulded me, healed me and helped me grow into a confident young man not just physically, but also morally and emotionally.

Towards the end of this beautiful journey, my heart is full of gratitude. It is not easy to say goodbye to the classroom that taught me, the teachers who inspired me and the environment that shaped my dreams. Modern Higher Secondary School has given me a platform to grow holistically, endowing me countless memories, lessons and confidence that will linger in my heart forever.

I pay my respect and say 'Thank You!' to all the teachers who were with me and supported me even at my lowest. Thank you all and God bless Modern Higher Secondary School!

1ST POSITION IN POETRYWILD CHILD

*Barefoot heart and stormy eyes,
 She runs beneath untamed skies-
 No map to guide, no rules to bind,
 A restless soul, a curious mind.*

*She speaks to wind, she talks to trees,
 She dances wild with honeybees;
 Her laughter spills through hills and streams,
 A melody born of boundless dreams.*

*No crown, no throne, no walls, no guide-
 Just freedom's pulse she feels inside.
 A spark of chaos, fierce and mild-
 The world belongs to the wild child.*

2ND POSITION IN POETRYTHERE LIES A LIGHT

*Along the countryside
 "somebody did a golden deed" rejoices the little girl,
 White walls filled his portrait
 Upright and the weary all were his masterpiece
 Sweet fragrances transcended like myth,
 The rock of all ages, be praised for he'
 He stood strong for the times were weak,
 Early in the dawn of agony
 And of pain- we'll rise
 And when the world trembles we'll seek the light
 For there lies a light.*

3RD POSITION IN POETRYECHOES OF OUR HOME

*From mountain peaks to valleys deep,
 Our memories wake from ancient sleep.
 The winds retell our mother's song,
 Of where our hearts have grown so strong.*

*The fields still bloom with golden grace,
 Each smile reflects our homeland's face.
 The Stars above, they softly gleam,
 Upon the land that fuels our dream*

*Through every path, our spirits roam,
 Yet every road still leads us home.
 For love unites both heart and hand,
 Forever proud of our native land.*

3RD POSITION IN POETRYIF THEY ONLY KNEW

*If they only knew the wars I face
 The voices I battle in silent space.
 I smile, I need, I play my part,
 While chaos crashes through my heart.*

*A voice says, "Fall, it ends the ache."
 Another pleads, "Please, don't break."
 A friend once asked, 'Are you okay?'
 I looked away, what could I say.*

*How do we speak of ghost inside?
 "when even our tears learns to hide."
 But I am here- though barely whole.
 Still breathing with a heavy soul.*
